AMERICAN SYSTEM HAS BEEN PRODUCTIVE OF MORE HUMAN HAPPINESS THAN ANY OTHER

United States Senator Edward Martin Addresses Republican Rally at Butler — Leadership for Peace and Freedom in The World.

BUTLER, Oct. 6.—"We believe in the American system of government is the most enlightened in the world," Senator Edward Martin told those attending a Republican rally here last night. "It has been productive of more human happiness than any other system of government since the world began," said the United States Senator.

Senator Martin's address follows: I am highly honored by your invitation to come to Butler County and to discuss with you the issues of this important campaign.

We Republicans approach the problems of our nation with assurance that they can and will be solved in the American way.

We believe in the American system of government as the most enlightened in the world. It has been productive of more human happiness than any other system of government since the world began.

We uphold the God-given right of every American, of every faith, of every ancestry and every station in life to walk upright in dignity and freedom without fear.

We believe that America's leadership for peace and freedom in the world must be supported by peace and unity at home.

At this critical time in world affairs our Nation's greatest need is unity, cooperation and confidence, those qualities can be developed and maintained only by clear thinking, straight-forward Americanism, tolerance and fair-play.

The greatest danger to a unified nation lies in doubt, confusion, prejudice and fear.

A divided America means a weak America. A nation, split into conflicting groups, factions and sections, each at war with the other, cannot progress in the American way.

Yet, in recent weeks, we have seen a candidate for the highest office in the land resorting to shabby trickery in an attempt to gain votes.

This campaign will be long remembered as a campaign in which a candidate for the high office of President of the United States was not ashamed to preach hatred, division and disunity in his appeal to the American people.

The Democratic candidate, Harry Truman, has found it necessary to bolster his waning political hopes with abuse, name calling and even personal vilification. His hysterical outbursts are designed to frighten the voter. They are in line with the technique which aims to divide and conquer.

Instead of promoting harmony and unity, he is spreading a poisonous doctrine of suspicion, fear and hatred. He attempts to array class against class, the worker against the employer, the farmer against the city dweller.

When pushing his program of division in the West he accuses the East of a conspiracy to destroy the West. In the East he charges the West with isolationism.

He warns the worker and the farmer that an unhappy fate awaits them unless he—Harry Truman—is elected in 1948.

To one group he promises that prices will come down if he is elected; to another group he pledges his aid to keep prices up.

And to every group he solemnly promises that he will keep them in line.

David Crawford's Friends Surprise Him at a Party

EDGELEY, Oct. 6.—David, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, was pleasantly surprised when friends gathered at his home on Edgely avenue, Saturday afternoon.

Decorations were in blue and gold, and each child received a miniature ship filled with candy and hats as favors. Games were played and prizes awarded.

Refreshments were served to Barbara Cox, "Kenny" Smith, Dorothy Robinson, David Ancker, Barbara Smyrl, Christina and Nancy Crawford, Thomas Nickerson, David Smith, Albert Baker, Karen Alexander, Wesley Rice, "Tommy" Kaechein, Carol Smith, Gail Mannherz, Dana Alexander, Kay and David Crawford, Miss Elizabeth King, Miss Emma King, Miss Katharine Hollings, Mrs. John Alexander, Mrs. Edward Crawford, Mrs. William Crawford.

On that afternoon the long-awaited auction sale, benefit for William Penn Fire Company, is to be held. Permission has been granted by Hulmeville borough council to close off a portion of Green street, in front of the fire station, so that plenty of space will be provided for the affair.

Baskets of apples, bags of potatoes, a number of pairs of nylon hosiery have been donated for the event. There have been gathered by firemen from homes of well-wishers a top-icer refrigerator, chairs, lamps, lamp shades and countless other items. One truck, donated by a local man for re-sale as junk, has already added to the sale returns.

Bidding is expected to be brisk as the coffers of the firemen are enlarged. And those attending the sale will find "hot dogs" and soft drinks on sale. Serving as auctioneer will be Edward Bilger.

LANDSLIDE COMING

There seems to be only one "if" about the election.

That's the size of the majority by which Dewey will win.

On that question, of course, depends the strength of the Republicans in the next Congress. If the landslide now in sight really takes place, the Republicans will win all the "doubtful" Congressional districts and Senate fights, and thereby deepen their hold in both Houses.

Perhaps never have the poll-takers and "observers" been more unanimous in reporting that one candidate—Dewey—is so far out in front, that the other one—Truman—can't possibly overtake him.

Not only is the Democratic Party deeply divided, which is bad; it is demoralized, which is worse. The South is in revolt, with its own candidate: Thurmond. The radicals also have their man in the race: Wallace. And the backbone of the party, the "old-line" Jeffersonians, are stuck with a nominee they don't like: Truman.

Moreover, the "time for a change" sentiment is in the air. The nomination of Dewey and Warren by the Republicans was enthusiastically received by the American public, and support for the Republican ticket has been climbing steadily.

There is only one danger in such a situation—but it's a very serious danger indeed.

That is the possibility that thousands or millions of Republicans become so sure "it's in the bag" that they forget to cast their ballots.

No election is over till the votes are counted. Take no chances! Plan now to be sure your vote, and those of your family and friends, really get into the ballot-box on election day.

Voting this time is especially easy. Only one mark is enough to cast your vote for the President, Vice President, the Congressman, the state's two fiscal officers.

Simply look for the word "REPUBLICAN" where it appears on the ballot in black type, and put an "X" in the space after it, thus:

REPUBLICAN X

AEROMODELEERS GIVEN A MEETING PLACE

Group Will Hereafter Meet In Basement of the Metz Store

SEEK FLYING FIELD

A new meeting place, with ample space for Aeromodelers to set up headquarters and workshop, has been arranged for the club by Sheridan Metz. It is located in the basement of Mr. Metz's store, Farragut avenue. Those members who are able to obtain chairs or workbenches are urged to provide such. The meeting scheduled for last evening was postponed until Friday, and will be held at the new meeting place. Members had been meeting in a room in Bristol Fire Co., No. 1, station, through courtesy of Archie Dalrymple.

At the last meeting a display of trophies and model beauty contest took place after "movies" were shown. Lester Michael was guest speaker. Winners of the model beauty contest were Warren McQuaid 1st; "Tommy" Pearson, 2nd; and "Bobby" Michael, 3rd.

James Gross exhibited the smallest powered model ever seen by the club. It was powered by a "Campus Co." motor and weighed only 2 1/2 oz.

As the contest season nears its end many members have turned to sport flying in the Bristol area. Considerable sport flying took place last Sunday on a field near Green Lane. Models of all descriptions were flown. Paul Karp flew a Diesel powered stunt model, James Van Sant, Jr., flew models of all types, including a scale model of a World War I fighter plane, and a model that he had constructed two years ago. The latter has over 200 flights to its credit. "Tommy" Pearson was having good luck with his Ohlsson powered trainer, but it was nearly destroyed later by a dive into the ground.

An attempt to secure ground near Rohm & Haas Co. for a flying field has failed. The members now have no alternative, they state, than to secure a smaller space near town for control line model flying only.

Several Bristol entries will fly models at the Newtown control line model contest. The events will begin promptly at 10 a. m. next Sunday on the Benet Farm, Newtown. Events will be: all speed events, stunt, beauty, jet, and a women's stunt event. All, with the exception of the beauty and women's stunt events, are AMA sanctioned. Prizes of $500 value are to be given to winners.

TO PLAY PINOCCHLE

At the pinocchle card party to be given this evening by the Shepherds, Delight Lodge No. 1, in Robert W. Bracken Post Home, Radcliffe street, some very nice prizes are being offered. Chairwoman of the affair is Mrs. William Harding. Playing will start at 8:30 P. M.

ORGANIZATION SESSION

EDGELEY, Oct. 6.—An organization meeting of Cub Scouts of Edgely is scheduled for this evening at eight o'clock in Headley Manor Fire Co. station. It will be under direction of Mr. Harris, of Bristol.

Joseph Sagolla Starts Practice Teaching in Tw'p

Joseph Sagolla, Temple University senior in the health and physical education department has started practice teaching in the Bristol Township high school. Sagolla, a former Bristol high athlete, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sagolla, 341 Dorrance street.

He graduated from Bristol high in 1943. While attending there, he participated in track, baseball, basketball, and gymnastics; was also president of the H-Y club, treasurer of the International club, member of the Booster club, sports writer for the Rambler, photography manager and sports editor of the Year Book, member of the Social Science and debating club and football manager.

Sagolla will practice teach at the township school for five months, and spend the following five months in another suburban school teaching health and physical education. He expects to graduate next June.

ENTERTAINS YOUNG MEN AT A DINNER

Samuel J. Illick is Host To Two Hulmeville Sunday School Classes

HULMEVILLE, Oct. 6.—Boys and young men of two Sunday School classes were guests at a dinner served in the social hall of Neshaun Methodist Church, last evening, the host being Samuel J. Illick.

The program of the evening included brief remarks by the pastor, the Rev. John C. Kulp, and the teachers, Samuel J. Illick and C. Wesley Haefner, and the showing of natural color slides of scenic spots throughout the United States.

Covers were arranged for: Oscar Oliver, "Jack" Moyer, Donald Haefner, Harry Claus, Jr., Herbert Abbott, Mark Shapcott, Elwyn Hill, Robert Weller, "Dick" Shapcott, Bernard Mullen, Messrs. Kulp, Haefner and Illick.

The dinner was prepared and served by a group of women of the church. The menu included: Fruit cup, fried chicken, peas, browned potatoes, cranberry sauce, rolls, butter, ice cream, cup cakes, home-made cookies, milk and coffee. Favors were noise makers and paper hats. Flowers for the occasion were provided from the Claus gardens.

Mr. Illick expressed his pleasure in being able to have the young men as his guests, and reiterated his sincere interest in youth as a whole. He reminded them of the place that Christianity holds in the world, and its responsibility, adding that "the world is looking to the Christian Church for the answer to the many problems of the day." He recalled his early days in this community and stressed the fact that

Install Legion Officers of Three Posts Here

The Robert W. Bracken Post No. 352, American Legion, was last night to officers and members of the Yardley and Fallsington posts of the American Legion at a joint installation of officers, held in the St. Mark's hall.

The officers of the three posts were installed by the commander of the Ninth District of Pennsylvania, Herbert M. Walker Langhorne, assisted by the Eastern Vice Commander of Pennsylvania, Elmer R. Leddon, of Willow Grove and Harry A. Chapin, deputy commander of the Ninth District of the Bristol Post.

The visiting officers were escorted to the platform by all the past commanders of Bracken Post and J. C. Schmidt, Jr., the president of the Past Commanders Ass'n, presented the past commanders' button to Retiring Commander Martin J. Healey.

The main feature of the evening was an address by George Kramer, Director of Veterans' Rehabilitation for the State Employment Service. He spoke on the "Rehabilitation of Disabled Veterans."

Another feature was a concert by the Cadet Corps. This corps has shown a marked improvement in the past year. They will be hosts to several corps of the surrounding communities at a competition to be held on Saturday, Oct. 30th, at 7:30 p. m. on the high school field.

The meeting was closed with a memorial service for all deceased members of the post and all members of the armed forces who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served to all and dancing was enjoyed by the nimble.

DRAFT BOARDS IN BUCKS GIVEN QUOTA OF 25

Bristol Board to Supply 12 and Doylestown 13 Men for Service

CALL UNMARRIED MEN

(By International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 6.—State Selective Service headquarters today called on local draft boards for 639 unmarried, non-veterans to fill Pennsylvania's November induction quota.

Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, State Director, said boards had been directed to summon 1899 registrants for physical examinations as a prerequisite to filling the quota.

Physical check-ups, he added, will be conducted in U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting stations throughout the Commonwealth this month.

Gross simultaneously announced the appointment of a five-member appeal board for the state. The agency, with headquarters at Harrisburg, will handle appeals.

FLEETWINGS GIVEN 1ST CHANCE TO BUY SCHOOL BD. TRACT

Board Agrees If Land is Sold Firm Will Be Given First Opportunity to Buy

PLAN TRIP TO CAPITAL

William H. H. Fine Named Delinquent Tax Collector

It developed last evening at a meeting of the Bristol Borough School Board, that Kaiser-Fleetwings Inc. is desirous of purchasing the tract of land on Radcliffe street, opposite their plant, Joseph Klienhard, Esq., counsel for the firm, appeared at a meeting of the school board, and asked that should the school board desire to sell the tract, that Kaiser-Fleetwings, Inc. be given the first opportunity to purchase.

The board went on record as granting the request, although at this time, the board is not considering the sale of the land.

The land was purchased by the school board as a site for a proposed new high school building and athletic field.

April 25th to April 29th is the time set for the trip to Washington by the senior class. It is anticipated there will be about 150 students taking the trip.

The use of the high school gymnasium by the Bristol Basketball League, Terchon Post, Bristol Glee Club, and East Bristol Township P. T. A., will be granted providing school activities are not interfered with and satisfactory conditions can be arranged.

The Board voted to send Charles Quigley and Mr. Hornberger to a national conference to be held in Harrisburg December 2nd and 3rd.

The Board instructed the secretary to write the Bristol Township school authorities requesting a meeting of the faculty of that district for the eighth and ninth grades with the faculty of similar grades of the Bristol public schools.

William H. H. Fine was named the delinquent tax collector for this district.

Mrs. Marion Peck and Miss Chambers were selected to attend a social studies workshop on Friday in West Chester.

David Hertzler, high school principal, was authorized to attend a convention of secondary schoolmen on October 25th and 26th.

Warren P. Snyder, in his report to the board, stated:

The general trend of increasing enrollment is quite evident in the lower grades. It appears that the enrollment in the first grade started to increase last year by 15 per cent over 1946-47, and the enrollment this current year has increased from 129 in 1947-48 to 167 in 1948-49, or an increase of 28 per cent over last year. This shows an increase in the current year of 21 per cent over 1946-47, or two years ago.

Elimination of the tuition pupils' from Bristol Township has given us a lot more flexibility and a lot more space in the high school building. It enabled us to make adjustments in the class size, and it also enabled us to develop the very excellent home economics department which we now operate.

HURRICANES TRACKED

A tropical hurricane is a sea serpent more vicious than any fabled monster. This month three hurricanes have stirred themselves up into rages of wind and waves off the South Atlantic Coast. The first two storms passed out to sea. The third hit Florida.

For the crews of a Portuguese fishing schooner and a British freighter the second spinning hurricane was very bad indeed. The schooner probably couldn't have got out of the way of the storm, even if she had been in radio communication with stations that were reporting the storm from hour to hour.

The Gaspar was foundering when the crew and a dog were heroically rescued by the Coast Guard cutter Bibb—the same ship that saved the crew of the clipper Bermuda Sky Queen last October.

The freighter Leicester had radio gear, and could have received warnings about the course of the hurricane. Maybe she wasn't listening, maybe something was wrong with the radio or with the engines. It is even possible that the captain had made up his mind to weather the storm. Anyway, the Leicester was listing to the point of capsizing when the crew was taken off by two freighters, one American, the other Argentine.

A decade ago a hurricane of that sort might have caught many more vessels. Nowadays, the tracking of hurricanes by airplane has become an art. Ships of the U. S. Navy and Coast Guard, the British Navy, the U. S. and British Air Forces, the commercial airlines—all report the weather as they find it at regular intervals. The information is codified and broadcast to all at sea.

The old sea monsters are not the terrors they used to be.

Congressional investigators discover a Red can get on the government pay roll and stay there 120 days unchallenged. If you work hard in Washington, it is understood, you may make yourself conspicuous quicker.

Scientists say an atomic bomb explosion is over in one-millionth of a second. At least, the suffering will be brief.

Pre-election polls are all going against Truman. The President it seems, is without prophets in his own country.

Circus Atmosphere Adds To Gay Birthday Party

A party was given Saturday afternoon in honor of Norma Jean Epley, who was celebrating her fourth birthday anniversary. The affair was held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Telford Epley, Landreth Manor.

The party was planned in a circus atmosphere with gay colored balloons used. Circus performers, an elephant and a trick dog were the table decorations amid paper hats and candy-filled favors. A large birthday cake, with circus animals parading around it, was the center of attraction. Donald Epley, properly attired, acted as a clown, and passed out ice cream cups and miniature bottles of soda. Games were played and gifts were received.

The young guests were requested to invite their mothers for tea. Guests included: Mrs. Benjamin Stockoff and son "Lanny," Mrs. Douglas Chilton and daughter "Duffy," Mrs. John Klomp and son "Jack," Mrs. Louis Simonangeli and son Louis, Jr.

"Friends of Library" will Hear Pulitzer Prize Winner

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 6 — When "Friends of the Library" gather on October 21st they will hear an address by Pulitzer prize winning author James A. Michener. Mr. Michener made his home in Doylestown during his boyhood.

Leigh Mitchell Dodge, poet and columnist, will introduce Mr. Michener to his home-town audience.

Melinda Cox Free Library has more than 12,000 volumes. Two librarians, the Misses Lucie R. Price and Martha Edgar, make it possible for the library to be open every afternoon and three evenings during the week.

Organized three years ago for the purpose of collecting funds, "Friends of the Library" has added more than 1400 books to the shelves. The goal during the present campaign is 1,000 more books.

There are junior, single, family and life memberships in the F. of L., which the first year procured Mrs. Pearl S. Buck and last year Lin Yu-Tang as guest speakers.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. H. Henry Heavener
Pastor
Cornwells Methodist Church

Our Heavenly Father, we thank thee for thy guiding hand and thy victory to us throughout the last year. We humbly beseech thee that such a horrible monster shall not be thrust upon us again so soon. May war be truly banished from the heart of man as well as from the policies of the nations. Teach us the lesson of love, the truth of faith, the security of placing our hopes in Thee. Grant us Christian leaders in this time of crisis that they may look unto Thee and guide this nation in thy perfect will. May the Spirit of thy Son be in every heart, to enlighten, to comfort, to encourage, and to guide. In His name. Amen.

ed: "Billy" Warner, Joan DiLorenzo, Carol Perkins, Raynold Jackson, John Boyle, John Smoyer, John Rogers, Grace Ricci, Audrey Lutz, Mary Susan Kringe and Ellen Scheffey. Carol may receive gifts.

Mrs. Frank Johnson and Mrs. Charles Scully, Philadelphia, were Thursday guests of Mrs. Theresa Gavegan, Beaver street.

Capt. and Mrs. William G. Henderson, Washington, D. C., formerly of Radcliffe street, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter on September 29th at the General Reed Hospital, Washington. The baby has been named Leslie Elise. Mrs. Henderson is the former Miss Harriet Eddleman, of Edgely.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Long, Wilson avenue, was christened Alice, Sunday, in St. Mark's R. C. Church by the Rev. Albert Glass. The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Cunningham, Drexel Hill. A dinner followed at the home of the baby's parents. Guests present included the sponsors and Mrs. A. F. Carberry, Philadelphia.

ST. ANN'S TO MEET BLAIR A. C. HERE IN GAME TONIGHT

St. Ann's A. A. and the Blair A. C. of Riverside will lock horns tonight under the lights on the high school field, starting at 8:30 o'clock. The game was scheduled for last night but rain caused its postponement.

The St. Ann's management was fortunate in being able to secure the floodlights for the game as these are usually engaged for weeks in advance but as Blair and the Saints are anxious to play their tilt the manager of the lights consented to have them here tonight.

The unbeaten Blair team will be one of the strongest that will face the Purple and Gold this season. The Burlington County champions have won their three games played and are unscathed upon. Last Sunday, the Saints scored a 9-0 victory over Collingswood and previous to that had won over Bordentown and Salem.

Power-laden with such backs as "Jackie" Joo, Bill Steedle, and Jack Benbow the Jersey team expects to decisively beat the Bristol team. Standouts in the Blair line are Jacoby and Ruff. It was this pair who broke through to block a Collingswood punt in Sunday's game to give Blair a safety.

The "Saints" received another setback this week when it was learned that several of the injured players will not be able to play against the Jerseys. Coach Jack Hinkel had hoped that these boys would be in shape for this contest.

To Hear of Progress Of Scout Campaign scheduled activities of the Bucks County Boy Scouts of America.

Representatives of the Bucks County Council attended a regional Scout institute at Camp Delmont, the Valley Forge Council camp near Summerville, over the week-end when 200 Scouters of Region III met for training purposes. Four groups were in operation and were attended by local Scouters as follows: Organization and Extension, Charles R. VanRensselaer, Ivyland, Lloyd Bucker, Pennell; activities, field executive Frederick B. Schneek; Commissioners: Robert Meyers, Parkland, William Porter, Edison, Charles Ramer, Croydon, Scout Executive Raymond W. Hoxworth was on the finance faculty, assisting Charles M. Miller of the national staff. The conference was under direction of regional executive Clarence Urfer, assisted by the regional staff and members of the national camping, training and boy's life services.

In keeping with the scheduled world-wide communion services of the Protestant church, a communion service was held in Delmont chapel on Sunday morning.

each person can find work to fulfill.

The Rev. Mr. Kulp expressed confidence in the youth of today, and said to the young men: "Let us renew our loyalty to Christ and God."

After expressing appreciation for services of Mr. Hilck throughout the years, and his hospitality of the evening, Mr. Haefner said to the guests: "The best way of showing our appreciation for the interest shown in the lives of each one is by living the best kind of lives possible."

Natural color slides of Hoover Dam; Yellowstone, Crater Lake and Yosemite National Parks, points of interest in California, Texas, Florida and other states were shown. These were taken during the past summer by Oscar Cliver and Donald Haefner during a six weeks' automobile trip. Projection was in charge of Miss Adeline E. Reetz. Miss Grace H. Hilck also showed pictures she had taken in California during the past summer.

Informa Club Group of Workshop for The Blind

ANDALUSIA, Oct. 6.—A. W. Lohler, executive director of Bucks County Branch, Penna. Association for the Blind, was the speaker last evening when Bensalem Rotary Club members dined in King hall. Phillip J. Mack was the presiding officer.

Mr. Lohler informed how an industrial school was started by this association in Pittsburgh in 1911. Mr. Lohler was assigned to start another workshop for the blind in Doylestown to take care of Bucks County blind residents on June 1, 1945. Upon the success of the Doylestown branch, Mr. Lohler started another such school in Bristol on January 1st of this year.

He told Rotarians that there are seven blind workers enrolled in Bristol school, and that he is in hopes of enrolling numerous others. Quite a few articles were on display to show progress of the blind workers.

Richard J. Graven, of Eddington, a jeweler and a member of the Rotary Club, was commended for his helpfulness to the blind workers in keeping their Braille watches in repair.

Rotarians will welcome monthly as guests two students from Bensalem high school senior class. Guests at last evening's session were Samuel Morrison, president of the student body; and F. Pfefferkorn, business manager of the "Bensalemite" and of the high school year book.

declares that we can spend our way to prosperity. He spreads the false philosophy that the people get something for nothing when the Federal government pays the bill. Nothing could be more ridiculous.

Just a week ago Mr. Truman's political tirades reached a new low level. Talking to a Texas audience, the President of the United States accused the Republicans in Congress of trying to tear up the Bill of Rights.

Such absolute nonsense has never been suggested by any candidate of either of the great political parties at any time in the whole political history of America.

It is an example of misrepresentation and deceit, contrary to every American concept of political honesty and decency.

Honorable men, who place American principles above political expediency, do not pursue such a course.

Let me give you another example of his frantic distortions. Listen carefully to this one.

In reporting his recent speech at Dallas, Texas, the Washington Post quoted Mr. Truman as saying: "You can't expect the Republicans' spokesmen to come out and state clearly who it is the Republican Party is really working for. They don't dare do that. You'd take them out and hang them if they did."

Those are Mr. Truman's words as reported in the Washington Post. No comment of mine is necessary for any right thinking American to pass judgment on the motives behind such an inflammatory statement.

The Democratic nominee should know by this time that the American people will not be fooled by that kind of double talk.

He should now be aware that the intelligent American voter is not deceived by his constant repetition of unfair and unfounded attacks upon the Eightieth Congress.

Let us go back over the record of fifteen years when the New Deal wing of the Democratic Party was in complete control of the government. In all that time both houses of Congress were controlled by Democrats.

Did they, in all those fifteen years, make any move whatsoever to reduce the high cost of government? Did they once succeed in balancing the budget? Did they bring about any reduction in the National debt? Did they stop the issuance of printing press money? Did they halt deficit financing?

No—They did none of these things. And that's not all. When the Democrats were in power, did they make any effort to reduce taxes? Did they do anything to remedy the paralyzing effect of labor strife in our national economy?

No—they had other ideas. They concentrated in one direction only—spend, spend, spend: tax, tax and tax; elect, elect and elect. That was the vicious philosophy enunciated by Harry Hopkins.

It was not until the Eightieth Congress took over—with Republicans in charge—that the extravagant course of the spendthrift Democratic administration was checked.

The Republicans in Congress were joined by a majority of the Democrats in their battle to cut expenditures and to reduce taxes. They had to fight every inch of the way to cut some of the dead wood out of the overgrown structure of bureaucracy.

With every Republican proposal for economy the most dangerous lobby in the United States sprang into action. The well-oiled administration propaganda machine—on the government payroll—swung into full operation. Tremendous pressure, generated at government expense, was brought to bear against any cut in any appropriation.

Instead of cooperating with Congress for a reduction in government spending President Truman proposed bigger budgets, more Federal encroachment upon State functions, more centralized power at Washington, more worn-out Socialistic schemes and bigger pay-rolls.

Now, as a candidate who high pressured himself upon a reluctant and unwilling party, Harry Truman complains that he was unable to force his will upon the Eightieth Congress.

That, my friends, was the greatest triumph of the Eightieth Congress. I am happy and proud to have been a member of the Congress that refused to submit blindly to the dictates of Harry Truman.

He complains that a Republican Congress refused to follow his leadership. But the record shows that the Democratic twenty-ninth Congress likewise refused to accept all his schemes for adding more billions of dollars to the Federal budget.

In all parts of the country there is growing anger and increasing resentment against the Truman tactics.

This is reflected in newspaper editorials. It is heard every day on the radio. It is voiced by the man on the street, the workman, the farmer, the businessman and the housewife.

Republicans and Democrats alike are shocked by Mr. Truman's gloomy predictions of disaster that will come upon us unless he is elected.

But they are not frightened—not at all.

Real Americans have confidence in America.

They recognize constructive statesmanship in the record of Thomas E. Dewey. They are encouraged by his program to unite all Americans in a crusade to save America.

Governor Dewey's speech opening his campaign at Des Moines, Iowa two weeks ago was a clarion call to all Americans to unite in patriotic effort to make America strong and to face our problems at home and abroad with courage and common sense.

Let me read a few paragraphs from that speech. They embrace a glowing message of confidence and inspiration.

Governor Dewey said, and I quote:

"On January 30 we will enter upon a new era. We propose to install in Washington an Administration which has faith in the American people, a warm understanding of their needs and the competence to meet them.

"We will rediscover the essential unity of our people and the spiritual strength which makes our country great."

"We will begin to move forward again, shoulder to shoulder toward an even greater America, and a better life for every American, working effectively for the peace of the world." (End of quotation)

Let me read one more brief excerpt from that speech by Governor Dewey. I wish to do so because it emphasizes so forcefully the cause to which the Republican Party is pledged: (I quote)

"So far as I am concerned—so far as the Republican Party is concerned—this campaign will not create divisions among our people."

"Instead it will unite us as we have never been united before to build our Nation so strongly that no force will again attack us and to labor unceasingly to find common grounds of firm and peaceful agreement with all nations." (End quote)

Governor Dewey has pledged to the American people—not to Republicans alone—but to all the people—that his every act as President will be determined by one principle above all others and that principle is:

"Is this good for our country?"

For too long the government at Washington has been directed and controlled by administrations which, knowingly or otherwise, failed to adhere to that principle.

So many of the schemes they launched, so many of the cure-alls they proposed, so many of the magic formulas they forced upon us, were not good for the country.

Instead they proved so harmful that the American people in 1946, thoroughly disgusted and disillusioned, elected Republican majorities to both houses of Congress so that some of the harm could be undone and a beginning could be made in the right direction.

That Congress had a mandate from the people to end the ruthless practices of the New Deal remnant of the Democratic Party—to wipe out the mistaken policies, the blundering experimentation and the incompetent management of the Truman administration.

The 80th Congress faced the most determined opposition from the Executive Department but it established a record of outstanding achievement.

Much more could have been accomplished if Congress had been given a measure of cooperation from the White House. Instead of aiding to bring about economy, the President continued to send messages to Congress calling for bigger and bigger appropriations and new and expanded Federal functions. His proposals for reckless spending, if adopted, would have sent the budget up to sixty or more billion dollars a year.

The course taken by the Democratic candidate clearly indicates that his election would mean approval of extravagance and wasteful spending, centralization of government, robbing the States of their sovereignty and reducing local government authority to almost nothing.

It would mean approval of his attitude toward Communism expressed when he called the Congressional investigations a "red herring."

It would mean a return to rationing, criminal black markets, regimentation of industry and other controls that he himself denounced as the tools of a police state.

With Governor Dewey as President and a strong Republican majority in Congress we will return to the Constitutional balance so wisely planned by the Founding Fathers of our Republic.

There will be cooperation for the welfare of the whole country instead of sectional strife for selfish advantage.

The Republican party will discard all the Socialistic schemes that have failed wherever they have been tried.

We will disentangle the jungle of bureaus, boards, commissions and agencies. We will unscramble their conflicting, overlapping and duplicating functions and will cut down the overloaded, bureaucratic payrolls.

We are on our way to victory under the leadership of the Republican standard bearers, Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren.

We must not falter or fail. We must work and work hard for complete victory—not only to put Tom Dewey in the White House but also to send Lou Graham back to Congress. He is needed to support the new President in the tremendous job ahead.

You have every right to be proud of Lou Graham. He is an outstanding Congressman—serving with honor and distinction as a member of the powerful Judiciary Committee.

I am confident you will give your full support to the election of our State candidates—Weldon B. Heyburn for Auditor-General, your neighbor, Charlie Barber for State Treasurer, and your Republican candidates for the State legislature.

I am confident that on November 2 the people of Butler County will go to the polls with determination that there must be a change at Washington.

This is the year of decision. The opportunity to share in the preservation of America is at hand.

There is no doubt in my mind that Butler County will do its full share to assure an overwhelming Republican Victory on November 2.
